CUNO'S SPEECH DEVOID OF NEW UTTERANCES

Chancellor Says Germany Has Not Suggested Inauguration of Negotiations With Occupying Powers

FRANCE PREPARES

Will Retain Class of '21 Under Colors Until May to Have Trained Troops to Aid New Arrivals

(By the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Mar. 6.—Cuancellor Cuno's keenly awaited speech before the Reichstag today was devoid of new and significant utterances in connection with the Ruhr situation beyond the statement that Germany had not, directly or indirectly, suggested the inauguration of negotiations with the occupying powers and that all rumors to this effect were without authoritative basis.

Germany, said the chancellor, could not negotiate "in view of the situation created in the Rhineland and Ruhr through the Franco-Belgian transgressions."

He intimated that so long as the invading powers continued their armed violation of German sovereignty and maintained, and even extended, their hostile occupation of German territory, which was immune by virtue of the Versailles treaty, the German government could not be expected to assume the initiative in respect of any action looking to settlement of the present conflict.

The chancellor's speech took the form of a lengthy protest in which he recapitulated in detail the situation growing out of the occupation of the Ruhr from the first day, and the more recent occupation of points in Baden.

He was frequently interrupted by expressions of indignation as he recited the number of arrests, convictions, evictions and deportations of German officials who refused to carry out the orders of the occupation authorities.

The Franco-Belgian expedition into the Ruhr, he said, had thus far resolved itself into a dismal economic fiasco and had wrested a doubtful offset to the alleged German delinquencies in the payment of reparations.

The French actions in the Ruhr he termed viciously inimical to the world's economic welfare in general and to the promotion of European reconstruction in particular.

In the course of his speech the chancellor described the French decree imposing the death penalty in cases where rail transport was seriously endangered by the actions or abstentions of railway officials as "an act of terrorism against the German railwaymen, compelling them by brutal penalties to be false to their oath to German sovereignty."

France Experiences Disappointment.

France has experience disappointment in all her economic calculations and had met with failure in all her political schemes, he said, but she remained logical in her application of violence, and this had produced between the two neighboring countries a degree of hatred that would be difficult to remove.

The peace that had been imposed upon Germany, and to fulfill which Germany had literally impoverished herself, had been trodden underfoot by France without one of the numerous signatories of the treaty moving a finger.

"Yet," he added, "the French action is as much directed against the peace instrument devised by the powers as it is against Germany. No wonder the minds of the German people are keyed to almost intolerable tension. If terrible danger is not to arise we must again point out the wrong which has ben done and warn the world without delay. For this reason I abandoned my journey to Munich."

Referring to the occupation of Mannheim, Karlsruhe and Darmstadt, he said that had such action occurred elsewhere among civilized nations, the world would have seethed with indignation, but since Germany was the sufferer it was considered as merely a small extension of the Ruhr action and unworthy of particular notice.

Declaring his intention to speak quite openly—"having nothing to conceal"—the chancellor recalled the French declaration repudiating political motives for the occupation, and said:

"Against that declaration we now have the reality. The so-called 'restricted' employment of soldiers comprises five divisions with two commanding generals, about 75 tanks and hundreds of airplanes."

Herr Cuno complained that the inter-allied Rhineland high commission had "placed itself at the service of French violence, issuing decrees without bothering itself about legal regard."

France Stands Determined.

Paris, Mar. 6. — The decision of the minister of war to keep the class of 1921 under the colors until the end of May, together with the project for 60 months' enlistments in interpreted in some quarters as another indication of the government's determination to wear out the Germans, and also a sign that the government is convinced that the Germans will make every effort to continue their resistance.

It is a matter of simple precaution, it was explained, to hold trained troops until new troops are obtained.

RESCUED AFTER FOODLESS DAYS

Crew Forced to Abandon Schooner Without Time to Obtain Foodstuffs From Larder

FOUR BADLY FROZEN

Three Men May Lose Toe or Two, But Others Escape Dangerous Frost Bites

St. Johns, N. B., Mar. 6 — The crew of the British schooner A. B. Burteaux, rescued from an ice floe three days after the vessel was crushed, was brought here today, partly frozen and exhausted by the Norwegian steamer Hauk, which picked the men up 10 days ago and had been fighting the floes since to get the men to shore.

Captain Henry James, with both legs frozen, said he and his six men quit their ship on February 20, after she had become surrounded by ice. They had left New York on February 5 with anthracite coal for this port. On the morning of the 20th the floes folded in on the little schooner, while the crew tried to force her through lanes that opened from time to time. Then a huge mass, cake piled on cake, to a height that made it look like a berg, cut through the vessel's bow.

The skipper said he had barely time to get his crew over the side with a small boat when the Burteaux went down. They were endangered by the floes and the floes tilted and crashed toward where she disappeared. They managed to keep themselves safe on a floe, but found they were without food.

There was no vessel in sight. The ice was so close they could not row although they had managed to preserve their boat. They were miles from land, but they set out to haul the boat over the floes, hoping to find open water near shore. The crew pulled and tugged, carrying the boat as they made the perilous crossings from floe to floe until nightfall. Too weak for further effort, Captain James said, they stopped then, and huddled together in the boat for warmth and protection.

With no land in sight, they decided to stay where they were and spent the next fooshless days there. The ice was thawed to give them water. Vessels were sighted in the distance at times and the men made signals by waving part of an oil coat at the end of an oar by day and at night set coats afire piece by piece, and signalled by flare.

There was little left of the oil skins when rescue came on the morning of the 23rd. The Norwegian steamer found the men barely able to display their signals, and Captain James almost helpless. Three other seamen badly bitten by the cold, will lose a toe or two each, doctors said, but probably will save their feet. The other three men escaped freezing.

Suggestions of foreign mediation were discounted several days ago by the statement that under no condition would mediation or proposals be entertained, except direct official proposals from Germany concerning her willingness to pay reparations. It is declared that the French government's [illegible] would not [illegible] the belief that the Germans have any such intention now, or, if they had, there is no reason to expect they would announce it in the face of hostile public opinion in Germany.

It was officially reiterated today that the French have no imperialistic intentions, such as annexing the Ruhr. It was pointed out that the Germans have money for carrying on Ruhr resistance and buying coal in England and raw materials in other countries, but none for reparations. It was admitted that difficulties had arisen for the French and Belgians owing to the attitude of the workmen, who were willing to mine coal, but not load it on the cars. For this reason the coal hauled out of the Ruhr during February, it is estimated, approximated only 50,000 tons.

Two Weeks' Strike.

Duesseldorf, Mar. 6. — Railwaymen meeting at Elberfeld today adopted the principle of a fortnight's strike in protest against the Franco-Belgian administration of the railways. The strikers will be paid for the first week by the Reich and for the second week out of the Ruhr relief funds.

Troop Information Continues.

Berlin, Mar. 6. — It is reported from Muenster that troop movements in the area south of Elberfeld continue. Wittenfuerth was occupied this morning by French cavalry, which then proceeded with other detachments in the direction of Gummersbach, the movement apparently having for its purpose the cutting off of the Cologne bridgehead to the east.

INSIST THAT ENGLAND TAKE DEFINITE STAND

Debate Reflects Fear Being Deprecating Government's Attitude of Benevolent Neutrality to France

REWRITING TREATY

Events Happening in Ruhr Only Too Likely to Lead to New War; Warning Against Separate French Peace

(By the Associated Press.)

London, Mar. 6.—The debate in the house of commons tonight on affairs in the Ruhr reflected the strong growing feeling which has been observed of late in the liberal and labor press depreciating the government's attitude of benevolent neutrality and insisting that England take a definite stand, not necessarily withdrawing her troops from the Ruhr, but informing France plainly in a formal note that England disapproves of the French policy and demand that the French government explicitly define its intention toward Germany.

J. Ramsey McDonald, leader of the laborites, moved a resolution that, with a view of securing peace, England should invite the French and Belgian chambers to appoint representative committees to meet a similar committee of the house of commons to exchange views on the occupation of the Ruhr and the problems of security and reparations.

Mr. McDonald supported the resolution in a speech characterized by moderation, which elicited from Mr. Bonar Law expressions of full agreement with many of his statements, but the prime minister maintained his previous position that the time was not ripe for intervention, that such a move would be regarded as hostile to France and that the government was not prepared to assume that responsibility. He appealed to the labor leader not to press the matter to a decision, and the resolution was talked out.

Mr. McDonald's plan provoked little enthusiasm in the house generally.

Mr. McDonald declared that France was rewriting the treaty of Versailles and that events were happening which were only too likely to lead to a new war. He feared that the nations were becoming less shamefaced in openly talking of reparations for the next war, and he warned the house of the possibility of France signing a separate peace with Germany and presenting the allies with the accomplished fact.

Lord Robert Cecil agreed that the government should make it quite clear to the other governments where it stood and what its policy was. R. A. L. Fisher contended that it was an international problem and that every effort should be made to get the United States in.

The prime minister, in winding up the debate, declared that France had gained nothing by her adventure; on the contrary she had sustained a heavy loss and it was impossible to prophecy the outcome. Mr. Bonar Law argued that it was not a question of M. Poincare or his government. Clearly the French policy was supported by both chambers and the French people; therefore the British government had no alternative before it.

There was only two courses, the prime minister continued—to accept the Ruhr advance with the greatest amount of friendly feeling possible, or to break faith and make the two countries practically hostile.

To himself, it seemed inevitable that to break the entente would mean the possibility of enforcing England's will on France by war.

EXPECTS GERMANY WILL BACK DOWN

Belief Is That Opponents Will Ask for Terms of Settlement Within Three Months

(By the Associated Press.)

Paris, Mar. 6.—That France ought to provide for her own security by insisting upon independent Westphalia and an independent Rhineland when Germany eventually gets ready to negotiate a final settlement of reparations is the opinion expressed in the lobbies of the chamber and finding echoes in the press.

How to deal with Germany has been the common subject of discussion in political circles, where the backdown of the Berlin government is expected within three months. There is general insistence upon the necessity of avoiding complications that have heretofore resulted from divergencies of view among the allies themselves. In some circles, generally well informed, it is even said that Great Britain must not be admitted to the negotiations unless it is understood before hand that she will support France in a reformed program for the execution of reparations.

The Day In Washington

A call for another national radio conference to be held at the department of commerce beginning March 26, was issued by Secretary Hoover.

The Central Trade commission was permanently enjoined by Justice Bailey in the District of Columbia supreme court from requiring the Maynard Coal company of Ohio to submit reports as to production costs.

The interior department, in a decision in the case of the Roxana Petroleum corporation, a shell-union subsidiary, reaffirmed its contention that companies in which aliens have a controlling interest cannot obtain leases of American oil lands.

Charges of Delegate Sutherland of Alaska, published in the Congressional Record, that the commerce department had handed "the salmon fisheries of Alaska over to the Chicago-San Francisco fish trusts" were characterized by Assistant Secretary Houston as "the most complete demagogic bunk ever put over."

DISCLOSES HUGE TICKET SWINDLE

Canadian Pacific Said to Be Big Loser on Conspiracy Between Conductor and Others

Winnipeg, Mar. 6.—A ticket swindling scheme in which the Canadian Pacific railway was said to have been defrauded of thousands of dollars and operated on a dominion-wide syndicate, was disclosed today at the preliminary hearing of Max Portigal, storekeeper, charged with conspiracy and receiving stolen goods.

Portigal was declared to have operated the scheme with A. Andrews, former sleeping car conductor, who turned king's evidence, whereby the latter held out tickets he collected, gave them to Portigal, who sold them at a discount and split the proceeds with him.

The organization, according to private detectives, extended its operations in all parts of Canada by similar methods.

TWO MORE HERRIN RIOT SURVIVORS TAKE STAND

(By the Associated Press.)

Marion, Ill., Mar. 6—Two more survivors of the Herrin riots of last June, testifying for the prosecution at the trial of six defendants as having taken an active part in the disorders which resulted in the slaying of three union miners and 22 non-union workers.

The two witnesses, Otis Lawrence, of Louisville, Ky., a fireman, and Bernard Jones, of Chicago, an armed guard, substantiated details of the story told on the witness stand yesterday by William Cairns, another survivor of the tragedy.

The two witnesses pointed out James Brown, a Negro, Philip Fontanetta and Otis Clark, as men they had seen in the death march carrying guns. All of them are defendants in the present case.

"POSITIVELY LAST" A. E. F. CONTINGENT COMES HOME

New York, Mar. 6. — Another contingent of the A. E. F. in Germany—this one heralded as "positively the last"—reached its native dominion tonight arriving from Hamburg aboard the steamer Argus.

They were a lieutenant and 16 enlisted men two "bachelor squads" and they remained behind, they said, "to police up the Rhine," after the commander, Major General Henry T. Allen, and their comrades in arms had departed.

They attended to the final stowing of army equipment, the last salvaging of soup kitchens and army blankets gave the American army mules left "over there" a last feed of American rations.

The Argus did not expect to dock tonight, because of the storm.

(By the Associated Press.)

The witnesses summoned today included Alonzo Braddock and his wife, W. C. Andrews, R. L. Dade, major of Mer Rouge and Addie May Hamilton and her mother.

The Hamiltons did not reach Bastrop, but the others named managed to traverse the road between Mer Rouge and Bastrop, made almost impassable by a storm during the night and early today.

Fourteen witnesses have been named to appear before the jury tomorrow.

THINKS STRIKE OF SHOPMEN SHOULD END

President Can See No "Adequate Question of Principle" Which Warrants Further Delay in Settlement

HINDERS DELIVERY

Harding Declares Minority of Interests, by Refusal to Settle, Largely to Blame for Rail Evils

Washington, Mar. — President Harding has informed officials of the railway shop crafts that he can see no "adequate question of principle" which warrants a further delay in settlement in all districts of last summer's shopmen's strike.

In a letter written just before he left Washington for Florida and made public today at the White house, the President declared that a minority of the interests involved, by their refusal to settle, were largely responsible for interrupted coal deliveries and other unsatisfactory railway conditions in certain parts of the country.

The President's letter was in response to one from Stephen E. Conner, secretary of the Federated Shop crafts, Central Railroad of New Jersey, and was as follows:

"Your letter of March 3 comes to hand just as I am about leaving for the south, but I am glad of the opportunity it affords me to express my sentiment on this subject. You tell me that the shop crafts of the New Jersey Central railroad are staging a relief fund movement and ask me to send my autographed photograph.

"I gladly complying.

"It is occasion of intense regret that the settlement of the shop craft's strike which has been effected on the larger part of the railroad systems and mileage of the country has not been found possible on all the rest. I do not find myself able to discern any adequate question of principle which could justify a minority of the interests involved in this distressing situation in refusing to make settlements similar to those which have been made by the majority. The information which reaches me brings the conviction that the continued failure to make settlement is largely responsible for unfort[illegible] to conditions as to railroad movements in some areas, and of interrupted deliveries of coal during the winter, with resultant suffering to many communities and much demoralization to industry. It is a situation which seems certain to become more serious unless effective measures are found for early amelioration."

The Central of New Jersey shopmen constitutes one o[illegible] the groups which have not yet effected a settlement of strike. The total number of men still out over the country has been a matter of 'spute, but officials of the International Machinists' Union estimated today that about forty per cent of the men w[illegible] went on strike July 1, have not yet returned.

CLOSE ARGUMENTS IN SALUDES CASE

Defense and Prosecution Attorneys Occupy Entire Day, Former Seeking to Show Insanity

New York, Mar. 6. — Emotionless and with half closed eyes, Mrs. Paulette Saludes, a French woman on trial for the murder of Oscar Martelliere, broker, heard the final arguments of both defense and prosecution attorneys, which occupied the entire session today.

Martelliere was pictured as a "cold-blooded viper" by the defense in seeking [illegible] the shooting. The defense alluded to Mrs. Saludes as half crazed from her wrongs and pointed out her frequent attempts to commit suicide in an effort to show she was irrational immediately before and after the broker was shot and killed in his own office.

Assistant District Attorney Brothers referred to Mrs. Saludes as a "jealous woman" and declared that "love turned to hate" was the motive for the killing. He belittled the defense plea of temporary insanity.

"If this defendant was a man," the prosecutor said, "I could sit down confident you would convict, but the real defense in this case is 'I am a woman.'"

Court was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

CARGO OF NEW ZEALAND BUTTER FOR NEW YORK

New York, Mar. 6. — Two epoch-marking occurrences were reported in commercial circles toda[illegible] — one the arrival of a 5,320,000 pound cargo of creamery butter afrom Auckland, N. Z., and the other of a 2,540,440 pound cargo of poultry from California.

New York marketmen announced that a fleet of butter carrying ships is now on the high seas with nearly 10,000,000 pounds of New Zealand butter destined for consumption in this country. Its arrival, it was predicted, would ease the price of creamery butter to consumers down to 55 cents a pound.

Both the butter and poultry cargoes came by the Panama canal.

ERIE DISCONTINUE RUNNING ENGINES BACKWARD

Albany, Mar. 6. — The Erie railroad will take steps to discontinue the present practice of operating trains with engines running backwards between Rochester and Mount Morris, it was announced today by the Public Service commission. The commission recently cited the railroad to show cause why adequate turntable facilities should not be installed at Rochester and Mount Morris, declaring the practice of backing engines dangerous because of the greater ease of derailment and inability of the enginemen to obtain a good view of tracks and crossings.

CHARGES FISH TRUST ACTION

Alaskan Delegate Claims Government Grants Salmon Fishing Rights to Big Companies

BAD WAR RECORD

Sutherland Says Firms Sold Fish for Soldier Use Which Was Putrid When Packed

Washington, Mar. 6.—Dan A. Sutherland, delegate to congress from Alaska, before departing for home today put into the Congressional Record a statement charging that the commerce department had "Handed the salmon fisheries of Alaska over to the Chicago-San Francisco fish trusts," which drew a response from Assistant Secretary Houston of the department, that the charges were "the most complete demagogic bunk ever put over."

Delegate Sutherland declared in his statement that Henry O'Malley, commissioner of fisheries and Dr. Charles Henry Gilbert of Leland Stanford university, scientific advisor to the bureau of fisheries, were "responsible for the grab," a charge which Mr. Houston contended was "simply infamous."

By recent regulations in reference to Alaskan fisheries, Mr. Sutherland asserted, three salmon packing concerns were given a monopoly of fishing rights. In reference to this Mr. Sutherland declared:

"The management of the red salmon trust of Alaska," said Mr. Sutherland's statement, "is centered in three powerful corporations of Chicago and San Francisco, that is: Libby, McNeil and Libby of Chicago, controlled by Swift and company, Chicago packers; Booth Fisheries company of Chicago, who operate in Alaska under the name of Northwestern Fisheries company, and the Alaska Packers' association of San Francisco, a subsidiary of the California Packing corporation."

The records of the war department, the statement asserted, show that these three corporations during the war prepared and sold to the war department 760,944 cans of "decomposed salmon for soldiers' food, and the testimony before the committee on investigation showed conclusively it was putrid when it was placed in the cans.

"And yet," continued the statement, "the department of commerce, knowing well the traitorous part played by these corporations during the war, pass over to their control the exclusive right of fishery in Alaskan waters, such as Karluk stream, and forbids loyal citizens of the territory to fish there."

Mr. Sutherland described what he said was an "anomalous" condition between two government departments toward the "salmon profiteers." While the department of justice "is engaged in assembling evidence to indict these men," he declared, "the department of commerce is engaged in dealing out to them exclusive privileges in Alaskan waters."

The other planes of the squadron, which is in a 2,550-mile flight from Kelly field, Tex., to San Juan, P. R., landed at Pablo Beach without mishap shortly after 4:30 o'clock.

The planes left Montgomery, Ala., at 11:55 o'clock this morning. Tomorrow the planes are scheduled to hop off from Pablo Beach for Miami.

HARDING PARTY REACHES LAND OF VACATION

President Inaugurates His Freedom From State Cares by Playing 18 Holes of Golf at Ormond Beach

SAIL DOWN RIVER

Party Enters Houseboat on Indian River and Leaves for New Smyrna for Another Golf Match

(By the Associated Press)

Ormond Beach, Fla., Mar. 6—After inaugurating his Florida vacation trip with 18 holes of golf over the Ormond Beach course, President Harding, with Mrs. Harding left here late today on the McLean houseboat for New Smyrna, about 20 miles down the Indian river.

The plans for the chief executive and Mrs. Harding and of their hosts Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean, of Washington, during the houseboat voyage called for two hours of steady sailing which would bring them at dark off New Smyrna, where it is expected another game of golf will be had tomorrow morning. The presidential party arrived at Ormond Beach a few minutes after noon, after having received enthusiastic welcomes at Jacksonville and St. Augustine.

At Jacksonville a delegation representing Governor Hardee and the city extended an official greeting and at St. Augustine, here Mr. Harding has spent several vacations and where he expects to spend a part of the present one, several hundred old friends were at the station.

Secretary of War and Mrs. Weeks left the party at St. Augustine and Charles G. Dawes, former director of the budget, joined.

The greeting extended the President and his wife here was less formal, but equally as enthusiastic as those at Jacksonville and St. Augustine. The little town was decorated with flags for the occasion and townspeople lined the railroad tracks for several blocks.

When Mrs. Harding stepped from the train, apparently having enjoyed the trip, the gathering [illegible] and the President waiting aboard to shake hands with the townspeople and to acknowledge greetings.

While talking with the engineer and conductor beside the locomotive, the automobile carrying Mrs. Harding drove up and she grasped the grimy hand of the engineer and thanked him and the other members of the train crew for making the trip so comfortable for her.

The President and Mrs. Harding then boarded the McLean houseboat, a 150 foot craft, called "The Pioneer." They were accompanied aboard by former Budget Director Dawes, Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, and Chairman Lasker of the shipping board. Immediately after luncheon the President went to the Ormond Beach golf course, made famous by John D. Rockefeller, who plays over it daily. The President had Mr. McLean as his partner and Chairman Lasker and former Director Dawes were paired against them.

Residents of Ormond Beach, the winter resort across the river from Ormond, greeted the President at the 18th hole with cheers and applause that plainly was a bit disconcerting to the executive as he missed two easy putts after having played a steady game throughout the round. Except for a rather stiff wind the weather was ideal for golf.

Indications developed during the day that the President during the trip would devote some time to the shipping problem as created by the defeat of the administration shipping bill. Details of the solution are being worked out by the shipping board and will be sent to Chairman Lasker during the trip and will be made the subject of conference between Mr. Lasker and the President.

[illegible] was not prepared to make public the administration plans.

North Kortright, Mar. 6. — The heavy blanket of snow which has retarded work in various lines for several months and considerably reduced automobile traffic is not without its inherent good. COMMITTED DEPREDATIONS

Five Stamford Lads Arrested for Lawless Acts at Davenport — Other Matters of Interest in Davenport.

Davenport, Mar. 6.—Five Stamford lads, Alexander Hymers, Marshall Brownell, Maynard VanLoan, Donald Dichter and Lad Tooley, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. M. Hebbard last evening because of depredations which they committed on Thursday night, last. The lads came from Stamford in an automobile and committed acts of lawlessness from Harpersfield to Davenport Center, stealing signs, mail boxes and a can of milk. Some of the mail boxes were found later thrown down wells. The "Slow Down" signs for motorists were torn down and carried some distance away. A can of milk was stolen from F. B. Toles, carried to Harpersfield, and the contents emptied in the school house, which the lads broke into.

Justice Hebbard ordered the boys to make restitution for the property loss and suspended sentence during good behavior. The lads were arrested by state troopers. It is possible that the case may not end here as the stealing of the mail boxes is a federal offense and a serious matter.

JUST SHORT OF PERFECT

Utica Man Rolls 299 in State Championship Tournament at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Mar. 6. — Missing a perfect score by one pin, leaving the number four pin standing on a light pocket hit after eleven straight strikes in the second game of his singles in the New York State Bowling association championship tournament here Saturday night, Ralph Wallace, Utica, who established the world's record three-game score of 764, lost an A. B. C. gold medal, awarded annually by the National organization for all 300 scores in regularly sanctioned tournaments.

Wallace is not to be pitied, however, as his record mark in the singles stands very little chance of being beaten in the tournament, which is to continue for seven days more coming to a close next Sunday evening.

As a prize for his 299 game, Wallace will receive a silver medal from the American Bowling congress. Another consolation prize awarded the new singles champion is the bowling ball with which he rolled his high scores. Wallace was forced to use a "house" ball, his having been rejected at the paddock on account of being overweighted.

Wallace in rolling into the lead of the individual event, accomplished the high mark through scores of 231, 299 and 244, an average of 255 pins.

Buffalo, Cortland, Hornell and Olean teams are on schedule for five man rooling tonight, with Rochester, Cortland, Seneca Falls and Newark bowlers in the doubles and singles today, to start the final week of the tournament.

SPEED KING BUYS A BUICK

Champion Jimmy Murphy hung up a new 250-mile track record in Los Angeles last week. He averaged 115.65 miles per hour and added $9,999 to his bank account.

About the same time Jimmy, truly the speed king of all time, purchased a Buick sedan for his private use.

"There is no secret," says the speedway king, "as to why I bought a Buick except possibly to those who never sat at the helm of one of the cars that put Flint, Mich., on the map. Buicks employ the valve-in-head engine, which is a development of the race track."

Murphy's racing car with which he exceeded all world's records from 100 miles up to 250 on last Thanksgiving day, houses a valve-in-head engine, the same type that has made Buick famous.

According to Murphy, the valve-in-head principle combines in performance more power and more speed with less weight and affords greater cooling areas, consequently he naturally chose one that conformed most closely to the "go-fast" he uses on the track.

Spring Real Estate Activities

Our 1923 list of Oneonta property contains homes in all sections of the city. Several new cottages, nearly completed will be finished to suit taste of buyer. Or, we will build from beginning using buyer's plans. We gladly show our property and talk with house-hunters.

We invite property owners to list their houses with us, by our "no sell, no pay" plan, no charge for listing or withdrawal.

By constant advertising we have the usual number of spring out-of-town buyers many with spot cash, ready to buy if they can get what they want. It is up to us to suit them. If we do not have the listing we can not suit our prospects and the city will lose a citizen. Our prospects will buy if owners will sell.

We have calls for singles, doubles, rooming, two flats, corner stores, brick blocks, residences, vacant lots, nearby plots, factory sites and business opportunities. We do not deal in farms. H. M. Bard & Son, long established real estate dealers, 8 Broad street. advt 3t

IN THE BUTTERNUT VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Davis Narrowly Escape Asphyxiation.

Morris, Mar. 6. — Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Davis came very near losing their lives by asphyxiation last Saturday morning at their residence on South Broad street. It seems that Mr. Davis arose as usual and dressed and opened the sitting room stove in which he was burning fine coal, and sat down near it to get warm and in some manner gas escaped from it and soon filled the house, including the bedroom where Mrs. Davis was sleeping. Mr. Davis' granddaughter, Emma Davis, was sleeping upstairs, and it being later than usual and not hearing anyone stirring downstairs, she got up and dressed and went down and found the rooms full of coal gas and Mr. Davis sitting in a chair unconscious and Mrs. Davis in the bedroom partially overcome but not unconscious. She opened the doors and windows and summoned help from the neighbors, and Joseph Woolverton, a trained nurse, was sent for. He came and gave them hypodermics to stimulate their hearts and they soon came out of it, but felt the effects of the gas for some time.

Gage Brothers' Opening.

One of the events of the winter here was the opening of the Gage Bros. new store in the Gage block, formerly the old hotel building, corner of Main and North Broad streets, Saturday afternoon and evening. About 400 of our people took this opportunity to visit the store and many of them weer surprised at what they found had been made of the hotel building.

They were met at the door by Mrs. Earl Gage, who asked each one to write their name in a book, and to the ladies she handed carnations and the gentlemen helped themselves to cigars, and the kiddies all had "lolly-pops." Then you had the free run of the store and obliging clerks were ready to show you around. The goods are all displayed on tables occupying one side of the main store, with the prices marked plainly. This is a new service they are installing and it is called the "self-service" plan. You help yourself to what you want and go to the counter on the other side of the room and settle. In the evening the Morris band was present and enlivened the time with good music.

The store is lighted by electricity and with their large display windows makes an attractive corner. The store occupies the space where the sitting room, dining room and the large hall of the hotel once were. Hot coffee, sandwiches and fried cakes were served free. Back of the store in the bakery, this large, new room having a capacity of 250 loaves of bread at once.

MANY WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

Through the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Two Interesting Cases

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the common ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Mrs. Edwards Avoids Operation

Wilson, N.C.—"For about a year I was not able to do anything, not even my housework, because of the pains in my sides and the bearing-down pains. I could only lie around the house. The doctor said nothing but an operation would help me, but I tried different medicines which did no good, until my sister insisted on my trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She said there was nothing like it. I know that she was right, for I began to improve with the first bottle and it has done me more good than anything else. I am able now to do anything on the farm or in my home and I recommend it to my friends."—LILLIE EDWARDS, R.F.D. 3, Box 44, Wilson, N. C.

Another Operation Avoided

Akron, Ohio. — "I can never praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for what it has done for me. I had such pains and weakness that the doctor told me nothing but an operation would help me. But my mother had taken the Vegetable Compound and she told me what it had done for her, and so I took it and I am glad to tell every one that it made me a strong woman, and I have had two children since then."—Mrs. R. G. WESTOVER, 325 Grant Street, Akron, Ohio.

BRIEF EDITORIAL MENTION

With the end of the congressional session President Harding leaves for a month's vacation from affairs of state, largely to be spent in Florida. The people of the United States, though in general remaining at home, are also experiencing a feeling of relief. It was Cleveland who dared to say that he had a congress on his hands. It is a condition which confronts any President the larger part of every year. Also it confronts the better class people and not less the better class of senators and representatives, who are compelled to listen the diatribes of the LaFollette group in both houses, and who see legislation deliberately blocked each session. But, now that the session is over, and the congress itself as a whole, there is the feeling that if the irreconcilables have blocked much proper legislation, they are not booked to do more immediate harm.

Down in Krumsville, Pa., the original Dutch settlers erected a stone church something more than 200 years ago. It was just a simple stone church with a white steeple, and though it was fully adequate for the purpose which for two centuries it had been used, it lacked the air of modernity, and there were creepers clinging to the walls and setting foot between the stones. Accordingly the inhabitants of Krumsville, by means of dynamite inserted in the walls, have blown the structure to bits; and presently a new one will go up more in consonance with present ideals. It surely is a pity, but there are many other landmarks which are going the same way in America. The declaration of independence affirms that the opinions of mankind is something for which there should be decent respect. But it all depends on whether these opinions are themselves decent.

A short time ago the State Department of Health gave figures of vital statistics in the cities of the state. These figures have just been supplemented by others which give the country birth and death rates, which are based on the entire population of the counties, exclusive of the incorporated [illegible]. In all these counties the average birth rate for the year 1922 was 19.7 per 1,000 of population, average death rate 14.6 and the average infant mortality 73 per each 1,000 infants born. In Otsego county, exclusive of Oneonta, there were 17.4 infants born for each 1,000 population, with 12.5 deaths; and there was 51 infant mortality for every 1,000 children born.

The assembly judicial committee has refused to sanction the bill which would require at least three days to pass between the issuance of a marriage license and the performance of the ceremony. The reason given is that it will not favor any measure which will make marriage harder or divorce easier. So far as that goes there would probably be a less rush toward the divorce courts if it were not so easy to marry without due consideration "Marry in haste and repent at leisure" is a saying which might well have consideration; and in fact there are few instances in which delay of three days could be of any considerable consequence.

As a result of a by-election in the Mitchem division of Surrey, England, Sir Arthur Griffith Boscowen, minister of health, has been defeated by J. Chuter Ede, who is a labor candidate. The significant fact is that the Mitchem district represented a government majority of 5,000 last November, and that it is now carried by 500 by a Labor candidate. To this is also to be added that Sir Arthur is the second member of the cabinet to be defeated in a by-election. Altogether the result must be disconcerting to the present government, and perhaps satisfactory to Lloyd George, who, though not a Laborite, can at least get a degree of satisfaction in anything which embarrasses the Bonar Law government.

IN CHILDREN'S COURT

Judge L. G. Welch Disposes of Three Cases at Sessions Here Yesterday.

Three cases came before County Judge L. G. Welch at the session of Children's court which he held yesterday at the Municipal building. A 15 year old boy was before him for truancy and habitual disobedience to his parents. The father appeared with the lad, who promised that he would attend school regularly and would mind his parents. The case was adjourned until April 3. Until then the boy must report to Miss Dorothy Blake, probation officer.

For failure to report to the probation officer as directed at the February Children's court session, a 14 year old boy was before Judge Welch. He also must appear in court on April 3 and meanwhile must report to Miss Blake. A 13 year old girl whose case came before Judge Welch in January was before him again yesterday, this time for truancy. The previous charge was shop-lifting. Upon her promise to go to school, the girl was placed on probation.

Miss Bessie Trout of Cooperstown, agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, appeared before the court relative to matters which will be brought before Judge Welch at the term of Children's court to be held in Cooperstown on March 22. The next session in this city will be on April 3.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Making the Enemy Pay.

In view of Bismark's theory, that the defeated nation should pay the cost of war, Germany's position regarding the Ruhr is absurd. France, in compelling compliance with the treaty of Versailles is simply carrying out the principle upon which German aggression has been based since the days of Frederick the Great, and of which Bismark was the most formidable modern exponent.

If the German empire had been the victor in the World war, Europe and the United States would have to pay damages of the most staggering proportions, and payment would have to be made without delay. It might be well to keep this fact in mind in considering conditions in the Ruhr. —[Scranton Republican.

Exploiting Russia.

Trustworthy reports from Soviet Russia are notoriously difficult to obtain. Any that come direct from Moscow are decidedly subject to suspicion, as the Bolshevists have shown themselves hopelessly unreliable. Prague is probably the best informed center as to what is going on in Russia. The reason for this is that the colony of Russian refugees in that city is numbered by thousands and includes most of the men of eminence who were lucky enough to escape from the clutches of the Soviet regime. —[Washington Post.

Keeping Us All Reminded.

"We will never forget that we are all Germans," says Field Marshal Hindenburg, urging his countrymen to perish in honor rather than live in disgrace. The trouble is that Hindenburg and his brother fire-eaters will not permit the rest of the world to forget that they are Germans.—[Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Busy Little Man.

Science tells us that the recent earthquakes under the ocean floors rocked the earth as it has never been rocked before in seismic history. Think of the force that makes the Andes and Himalayas vibrate like fiddle-strings and then observe some little mankin strut under the impression that he is jarring the foundations of the universe.—[Houston Post.

Art and Athletics.

Athletic sports are still new to France, but art there is old and mature and has been woven into the national fabric. Football, lawn tennis, running, etc., have been embraced by the Gaul with enthusiasm, but he has not for that reason abandoned his delight in the fine arts and is not ready to sacrifice the latter for the pleasures of physical prowess. — [New Orleans Times-Picayune.

EXPERIENCED FOREMEN

Col. Greene Directs That Heads of Truck or Maintenance Gangs Must Be Efficient.

Col. Frederick Stuart Greene, state commissioner of highways, has issued an order to all division engineers in the highway department to the effect that men appointed as foremen of large state-owned truck gangs or smaller maintenance gangs must have had at least one season's experience in road building or road repair work.

In his order to the division engineers Commissioner Greene says: "In organizing your maintenance forces for the coming season, bear in mind that efficiency in the field must be the first consideration.

"In order to secure this efficiency, I deem it necessary that no man be appointed a foreman, either on our large state-owned truck gangs or on the smaller maintenance gangs, who has not had at least one season's experience in actual road building or road repair work. It is not necessary for this experience to have been acquired in this department; men who have worked with road contractors in this or other states, would be qualified."

When asked as to the meaning of the order, Commissioner Greene said: "I am interested in efficiency in every branch of this department first, last and all the time."

MAGAZINE AGENT JAILED

"Bob McCormick" Arrested for Petit Larceny and Misrepresentation.

Henry Kenney, alias Bob McCormick, 20, who has been soliciting magazine subscriptions in the city for some days past, was conveyed to Cooperstown by Chief Horton yesterday to commence a 30 day jail sentence for petit larceny and misrepresentaiton. The complaint was made by Martin G. Gardner of Albany, a representative of the International Sales company, for whom McCormick, as he was known hereabouts, was working.

The man had solicited subscriptions for a variety of magazines, offering in most cases added inducements, such as a magazine for a year free of charge. He collected 50 cents from each subscriber, giving them a slip to send to the publishers with the rest of the subscription price. Martin claimed that McCormick had not turned in some of the stubs to the company and that he was unauthorized to make the offers he did.

Mr. Martin stated to The Star that McCormick had been authorized to take subscriptions for Today's Housewife only and should have solicited for no other publications. He further stated that his company would make an endeavor to adjust in a fair manner any subscriptions which McCormick had collected and that persons who had had unsatisfactory dealings with him should write the International Sales company, 112 State street, Albany, N. Y., giving the full facts in the case.

Between 40 and 50 subscriptions were secured by McCormick during his short but busy residence in the city.

MAGAZINE SOLICITORS

Secretary Hicks Tells Why Some Agents Were Given Credentials and Advises Action to Be Taken if Misrepresentation is Shown.

March 6, 1923.

Editor of The Star:

An ordinance regulating magazine agents was drafted and endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce and submitted to the Common Council at its meeting this evening. This (proposed) ordinance will not affect persons both residing and having their place of business in Oneonta. A license fee of not less than $5 nor more than $100 a month for each magazine agent granted a license is fixed by the mayor, upon his findings that the agent is a responsible person and an accredited representative of a responsible company. But the mayor may dispense with the license fee, if in his discretion it seems best to do so.

In this way the magazine agents, coming to Oneonta from parts unknown with a gilt-edge story about earning a college scholarship and leaving for parts unknown as abruptly as they came, especially when the police may be investigating them, can be kept out of Oneonta if the mayor so decides, and citizens prosected from unscrupulous agents. I do not mean to attack all magafine agents but my experience has been that a goodly percentage of them are unscrupulous and it is extremely difficult to tell the wheat from the chaff.

During the past, by an arrangement between the chief of police and myself, I have given letters of credentials to agents representing companies affiliated with a so-called protective association, and refused letters to representatives of other companies. This protective association has an agreement with the magazines which they offer, whereby they will fulfill the subscription contracts which their agents make or refund the money already paid on them. In this way representatives of irresponsible companies, and there are many such, were discouraged although neither Chief Horton nor I had authority to force them to leave town. I know of quite a few magazine agents who left town after they learned they had to apply for a letter of credentials.

This morning a representative of a protective association company was sentenced to jail on complaint of his own district manager for making subscription offers for which his company's contract blanks did not provide, and other fraudulent misrepresentations. The district manager is staying here to make valid the subscriptions this unfortunate young man solicited and received. This man had a letter of credentials from me, which clearly stated he "is authorized to receive subscriptions for the magazines offered by that company and to receive the first payments named in red type on the receipts he gives. This is not an endorsement of the magazine offers." Other credentials issued by me were similarly worded.

But an argument between the district manager and the sentenced youth, which took place before Chief Horton and me, clearly showed us that even district managers of presumably responsible companies are not concerned with the misrepresentations their agents make so long as they do not get the company, or the district manager, in trouble. Hence, the recommendation and drafting of a regulatory ordinance.

Any citizens who have not received magazines for which they subscribed from an agent bearing a letter of credentials signed by me, are urged to write direct to the circulation managers of the magazines, stating the facts and the name of the agent and his company, and requesting the magazines to have the protective association make the subscription good or refund the money paid. If any fail to get results after following that procedure, I would be glad to have them call on me at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Faithfully yours,
Everett Hicks, Secretary
Oneonta Chamber of Commerce.

BUY HARTWICK "BETTER QUALITY" CHICKS

Quality is our first aim. At the meeting of the Poultry Council in Oneonta last summer the need of a Hatchery in the county was discussed and voted on. The people of Hartwick, who are centrally located immediately started to work out a plan by which they could be sure of delivering what the market was demanding, that is Standard type chickens that would develop into hens that would lay eggs of uniform color, size and shape. Tinted and irregular shaped eggs are causing the poultrymen a loss of a lot of their profits every day. Prof. Rice of the Poultry Department of Cornell gave us our plan—have all pure bred flocks and have each flock mated with certified rooster. And beyond all this he would recommend a licensed judge, who was not interested in the Hatchery or the flocks to cull the flock as to type and vigor. He recommended Mr. Quigley of Port Richmond, N. Y., who is now on the job and will soon make his report to Prof. Rice. Place your order now in order to avoid disappointment.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Oration by Miss Florence Every a Sketch of Mark Twain.

At the assembly at the High school building Monday afternoon Miss Florence Every, a senior, gave an original oration "Biographical Sketch of Mark Twain." It evidenced much care in its preparation and proved very interesting.

The oration gave some intimate glimpses of the famous author. One interesting fact which she disclosed gave the explanation of the selection of Mark Twain by Mr. Clemmens. During the time that he was employed on a boat on the Mississippi river it was the duty of one of the men at intervals to take measurements of the depth of the river. The expression "Mark Twain" was employed to announce a depth of two fathoms.

The junior recital was given by Miss Mary Russell, who selected "Lincoln, the Man of the People" by Edward Markman, which was delivered very creditably.

The definite dates for the production of "Daddy Longlegs" by the Dramatic club have not been announced but will be made public shortly. Meanwhile rehearsals are progressing very favorably under the supervision of Miss Cowan.

The High school basketball team having won the sectional championship will journey to Binghamton to participate in games with other sectional champions on Friday of next week and if successful in the game on that evening will participate in other encounters on Saturday.

The Boys Musical and Girls Chorus clubs are practicing regularly and are making good progress under Miss Schufelt. The clubs expect to announce a concert in the near future.

Sentinel—Mrs. Margaret Yagel.
Organist—Miss Frances Geiger.

Miss Dora Gilmartin was appointed lecturer for the year.

Miss Ryan gave a very interesting talk on the work which had been done throughout the state during the past year by the Catholic Daughters. Following the talk a musical program was rendered and refreshments were served. There were about 50 members present.

Births.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John F. For[illegible] of 11 Academy street, Friday, March 2, at the Parshall hospital, a 9½ pound daughter, who will answer to the names Margaret Mary.

Is Your Sight Hindsight?

Are you regretting that you did not do as Sam, John, Bill and Julia did and now have a slice of several million dollars that I have safely rolled up from small amounts, for little fellows? If so, cut out the hindsight and go to No. 54 Chestnut street and get in with my big bunch of little fellers that I am now helping to thus roll up several million more. Yes, and if you do it, you won't feel so ugly, for you'll find a place in this old world of graft and grab, where no one man or clique of men get any undue gain or advantage over others. PROMISE HEARTY SUPPORT

Chamber of Commerce Directors Urge Centennial Lodge to Proceed With Contemplated Plans and Name Committee to Aid.

At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce held yesterday afternoon a resolution was passed declaring it the sentiment of the Chamber that Centennial lodge, I. O. O. F., should not consider abandoning the idea of entertaining the state cantonment in this city because of recent unfortunate experiences and pledging the committee in charge its hearty support in carrying out the original plans. Though unsolicited the Chamber named a special committee to cooperate in any and every way possible with the general committee from the lodge in furthering the enterprise. Messrs. I. J. Bookhout, A. O. Ingerham and S. S. Kilkenny were named as such committee by President Ceperley.

The Chamber also passed a resolution instructing the president and secretary to communicate to the public service commission the abiding interest of the city in the welfare of the Southern New York railway and urging the commission if justified to approve the petition of that company for authority to issue obligations upon the plant and property of the Southern New York Power company to aid in making additions and repairs upon the trolley road property.

The directors spent more than an hour considering the program of work for the current year as recommended by the members after group meetings and a ballot sent to all members. The subject was gone over carefulyl and some of the projects which will be embraced in the majir programs were adopted. It is believed that at another meeting the entire program can be approved and published for the information of members.

FUEL SITUATION EASIER

Fuel Administrator Ceperley Warns Against Over-Confidence However.

The fuel situation in the city has eased up to such an extent that County Fuel Administrator A. E. Ceperley has modified the restriction on coal deliveries to the extent that he is allowing dealers to deliver up to 1,000 pounds when their supply of coal warrants. The largest amount that could be delivered prior to this ruling was 500 pounds.

The recent warm spell and the receipt by dealers of shipments from the mines made the situation in the city less serious than it had been at any time since the beginning of winter. All of the dealers now have some coal at their yards and householders are able to obtain sufficient fuel to satisfy their wants without much difficulty.

Mr. Ceperley warns, however, against a letting down in economy of coal consumption. He has not modified the restriction on the furnishing of substitutes when possible and advises strict care in the use of coal. Although it is believed that no more serious difficulty will be experienced in getting shipments of fuel, still it is possible that a period of extreme cold weather might create a demand that could not be satisfied and cause a reversion of the fuel situation to one of seriousness again.

TWENTY CHILDREN SAVED

Nearly Half of City's Quota in Near East Drive Already Secured.

H. M. Fettretch, who is in charge of the Near East Relief drive in Oneonta returned last evening from Troy whence he had conducted Askanas DerBedrosyan, the Armenian lad who appeared in Oneonta churches on Sunday in behalf of the local drive. While in Troy Mr. Fettretch took the lad to see John T. Birge, district supervisor of the drive, who complimented Askanas upon the assistance which he had given toward the movement for relief of his people.

At 4 p. m. today there will be a meeting at the Community house of all committees, including the local committee, the executive committee, and the chairmen and members appointed so far to all other committees. It is important that all committee members attend this meeting.

Over 20 children have already been provided for and with the earnest cooperation of all committee members it is hoped that the balance of the quota of 50 children whom Oneonta has been asked to save will be looked after within a short time.

Local Talent at the Maxey.

Very clever and satisfying to the audience was the musical sketch presented at the Maxey theatre last evening by Miss Leona Hendy, Harold Thayer and Stuart Pratt. The three young people, all High school students, showed ability of high order. Miss Hendy and Mr. Thayer, dressed in colonial costumes, appeared in two duets, Mr. Thayer's rich bass voice blending nicely with Miss Hendy's full, sweet tones. Mr. Pratt accompanied them and also played a piano solo with excellent technique. The feature picture was Bull-Dog Drummond, an absorbing melodrama.

Sprains Shoulder Ligaments.

Charles Markle of 11 Grove street, an employe of the Oneonta Ice and Fuel company, severely sprained the ligaments of his right shoulder when the wagon with which he was delivering coal skidded and tipped over on Normal avenue yesterday morning. Mr. Markle was thrown from the wagon, landing on the shoulder. He was taken to his home and Dr. David H. Mills summoned. The injury will keep Mr. Markle from his work for several days.

MAGAZINE AGENTS

Council Asked to Draft Ordinance Requiring Licenses in City

ROOMING HOUSES CONSIDERED

Mayor Miller Thinks All Rooming and Boarding Houses Should Be Licensed and Required to Keep Register of All Inmates — Parish House Plans Approved—O. B. Rowe Named as Civil Service Commissioner.

At the meeting of the common council held last evening the following ordinance was presented for adoption with the report that the Chamber of Commerce had endorsed it and requested that it be enacted:

Be it ordained by the common council fo the city of Oneonta, New York, as follows:

Sec. 1. No person or persons shall solicit or receive subscriptions to magazines or similar publications, or money as part or full payment of such subscriptions within the city of Oneonta, without first obtaining a license so to do, to be granted by the mayor.

Sec. 2. A license to a magazine agent shall be granted by the mayor, provided he finds the agent applying for same is a responsible person and an accredited representative of a responsible company or agency, upon the payment of such sum or sums as the mayor may fix therefore, which sum or sums shall not be less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars per month for each such agency soliciting or receiving subscriptions to magazine or similar publications, except that the mayor may, upon his discretion, dispense with the license fee.

Sec. 3. This ordinance shall not apply to persons both residing and having their place of business in the city of Oneonta.

Sec. 4. Any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall constitute a misdemeanor and the person violating the same shall be subject to a penalty of fifty dollars for each offense.

Sec. 5. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

A motion had been made and seconded that the ordinance be adopted when Attorney Gibbs was asked to pass upon it. He suggested that he be given time in which to examine the proposed measure and make any changes that seemed to him advisable. Thereon it was referred to him for a report at the next meeting.

Plans for Parish House.

Rev. L. C. Denney, J. G. Hoyt and H. M. Goldsmith of the building committee of St. James' church appeared before the council and submitted plans and specifications for the proposed one-story parish house which it is the purpose of the society to erect on the vacant lot between the church and the rectory.

Mr. Hoyt, speaking for the committee, stated that the plans had been submitted to Fire Chief Choate and had met with his approval. He stated that the structure is to have stone [illegible] of either similar stone to those of the church or of artificial stone; that the sidewalls are to be of brick, concrete or hollow tile and the supports otherwise of steel posts. He said that it is proposed to have the structure constructed on the same street line as the Elm street frontage of the church edifice. The plans were prepared by A. K. Mosley of Troy.

By an unanimous vote of those present the plans were approved and consent for the construction given with the usual restrictions that the work shall conform to the city ordinances and regulations.

Urge Request Be Granted.

Attorney Owen C. Becker appeared before the council and stated that the Southern New York Railway company would soon be required to meet extraordinary expenses and that it could not easily float additional bonds, but that the Southern New York Power company, also a J. G. White corporation, could issue additional securities upon its power plants and lighting properties with which to aid the former project. He presented a request that the council if it approved, communicate with the public service commission requesting the commission to grant the request recently presented to it in this matter.

A resolution was passed declaring that the affairs of the Southern New York railway are closely related to the interests of Oneonta city and Otsego county and that if the granting of the petition referred to will permit the company to secure additional money for the purpose of additions and repairs, the council request the public service commission to grant the request. The resolution was passed without dissent.

P. R. CHAMBERS PROMOTED

Local Manager of New York Gas and Electric Corporation Will Also Supervise Northern Division of Southern New York Power Company.

P. R. Chambers, local manager for the New York State Gas and Electric corporation, has been given direct supervision of the northern division of the Southern New York Power company, it was announced yesterday by officials of the company. This promotion comes as the result of the resignation of Fred Haverly, who for a number of years has been general manager of the Southern New York Power company. Mr. Haverly, whose resignation took effect as of March 1, will devote his time to other interests. Mr Chambers will retain his management of the Gas and Electric corporation.

The Southern New York Power company operates in adjacent territory to the New York State Gas and Electric corporations, furnishing electric light and power to villages from Oneonta to and including Cooperstown and to communities served by the trolley road from Oneonta to and including Richfield Springs. Power is obtained from the steam plant at Hartwick and the water power plant at Colliers. Since the companies are both controlled by the same management it was thought best to coordinate their activities.

If the plans of the company can be realized, there will probably be physical connections between the two companies and a great deal of the operating work and details will be coordinated, thus promoting more efficient and better relationship and service. The purposes of the two companies, that is, the serving of electric light, heat and power, are identical and coordination of the operations should prove of great benefit to the community.

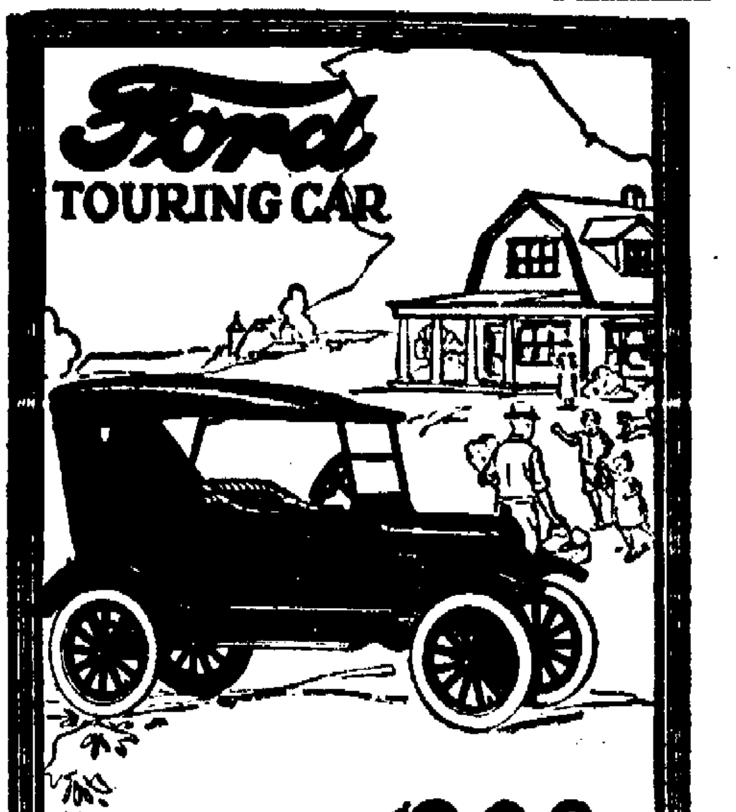

This increase in duties is a distinct promotion for Mr. Chambers and will be very gratifying to the many friends which he has made during the four years he has been manager here for the New York Gas and Electric corporation. Mr. Chambers will retain his headquarters in Oneonta.

Hearing on Wilber Will Deferred.

The hearing on appeal in the proceeding begun by Mrs. Mary Wilber Russ and Mrs. Flora Lyon to determine the meaning of certain clauses in the will of the late George I. Wilber, is understood to have been originally set down on the day calendar of the appellate division of the supreme court at Albany today; but on account of the illness of Alva Seybolt, Esq., representing the appellant, the Wilber National bank, as executor of the will, it has been agreed that the hearing be deferred to a later date. It is believed, however, that the case will be heard at some date before the close of the present term of court.

ENGINES IN BETTER SHAPE

Public Service Commissioner Closer S. & H. Hearing—Will Reopen If Conditions Warrant.

Albany, Mar. 6. — That the condition of Delaware and Hudson locomotives has shown a marked improvement since the Public Service commission took action in the matter three weeks ago was brought out at a continuation of the hearing here today. Judge N. P. Willis, attorney, and George S. Edmonds, superintendent of motive power, testified that all locomotives reported defective by the state inspectors had been repaired or were in the shops at C.

James J. Gill, an inspector for the commission, testified that the repair work had been carried on as speedily as possible but that in the course of another inspection yesterday he had found certain defects which had developed in a few of the locomotives. These defects, he admitted, when questioned by Judge Willis, were such as might occur at any time on any railroad. Inspector Charles F. Markart testified that he had found some defects in engines examined by him at Oneonta. Both inspectors agreed that defects previously found had been remedied.

The hearing was held before Commissioner VanVoorhis, assisted by Charles R. Vanneman, chief engineer for the commission. Commissioner VanVoorhis announced that the case was discontinued but he added that periodical inspections would be continued by the commission.

"Should future reports of our inspectors warrant, this hearing will be reopened," the commissioner declared.

Thomas E. Ryan, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and John Fitzgibbons, representing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, attended the hearing.

WOULD END ALL WAR

Kansas Woman Claims Enfranchisement of All Women Would Mean Peace.

Hutchinson, Kans., Mar. 6. — Universal enfranchisement of women would mean permanent world peace, in the opinion of Mrs. W. Y. Morgan, recently named as a delegate to the international suffrage conference in Rome, Italy, May 10-19. Mrs. Morgan is the wife of the editor of the Hutchinson News, who is a former lieutenant governor of Kansas.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the full ballot of women in Europe would end war in Europe," said Mrs. Morgan.

"France, denied the privilege of suffrage for women, apparently is about to be plunged into another war, when the vote of the women themselves probably would have prevented it. I hope and believe that everlasting peace will come to the world when women are given the opportunity to do their share in managing the governments of the world.

"The Italian women are in the throes of a campaign for suffrage. This is one of the reasons why the meeting of the International Women's Suffrage Alliance is to be there this year."

The Rome conference is the first of its kind since the war. Each country participating, regardless of size, is entitled to twelve delegates. Mrs. Morgan was selected by the National League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Morgan plans to leave the United States the latter part of April. After attending the conference at Rome she will travel in other parts of Europe. She has made several trips to Europe in the last twelve years with her husband when he has written books of European travel.

REGIONAL CONFERENCE

Of Five Counties Held at First Presbyterian Church Yesterday Under Auspice of New York State W. C. T. U.

Under the auspices of the New York State Woman's Christian Temperance Union a regional conference of Otsego, Delaware, Schoharie, Chenango and Sullivan county organizations was held in the First Presbyterian church here yesterday. There were three sessions held with over twenty-five delegates from outside of Otsego county, while the attendance at each of the meetings was nearly one hundred.

Mrs. [illegible] county of New York city, state vice-president of the W. C. T. U. was director of the conference and presided at all of the meetings. Mrs. Frances W. Graham of Lockport, who has visited the city on several occasions in the interest of this work, was also here yesterday, as well as Mrs. Clara Jacobs of Rochester, Miss Grace Leigh Scott, national lecturer for the W. C. T. U. department of social morality, and Mrs. Irene B. Taylor, of Schenectady.

The morning session began at 10:30 o'clock and included the appointment of committees, several round table talks, and reports of the World and National conventions, by Mrs. Minnie Webster, of the Chenango county organization. Upon adjournment many of the ladies took luncheon at Kilkenny's restaurant where a special meal was served.

At the afternoon session the ladies were welcomed by Dr. J. C. Russell, pastor of the church, by Mrs. J. C. Smith, for the Woman's club of Oneonta, and by Mrs. Flora Frisbee, for the W. C. T. U. Miss Grace Leigh Scott, national W. C. T. U. lecturer for the department of social morality, gave a very interesting address on the latest undertaking of that organization. Dr. George J. Dann, city superintendent of schools, spoke on "The Value of Prohibition to the Public Schools" and made several very interesting points. Perhaps the most interesting one was the fact that prohibition makes it much cheaper to educate many children. Those who are raised in a home of liquor ordinarily require a longer time to learn, that is their mental processes are slow. It is certain that a seat in any of the public schools costs the taxpayer more than $100, so that any considerable number of students who are hard to teach because of alcohol are a real burden upon those who support the school system.

Mrs. Irene B. Taylor of Schenectady, a sister of John L. Powlish of this city also addressed the conference, taking as her subject, "Citizenship." During the adjournment between session the ladies were entertained at the Woman's club.

The evening session began at 7:30 with Mrs. Colvin presiding. Following the singing and prayer Mrs. Colvin introduced Mayor Miller who spoke briefly as follows: "I have welcomed many conventions and conferences to the city in the past year and a half but this is the first one which I have had a chance to observe before giving my welcome. But what I have seen makes me very glad to welcome the ladies of the Woman's Christian union. I am pressed for time but ther are a few words which [illegible] Oneonta is far from perfect but I believe it is as clean a town as New York state can show. We have evil people rom outte a surrounding territory coming here where they are not known for much of their pleasure but the citizens of Oneonta are an excellent class.

"The chief obstacle to present government is the tendency to scorn and ridicule laws, in fact, today each man seems to have some law which he delights to break. Either to run a bit over the speed limit or some minor infraction of traffic laws, to disregard the sacred bonds of the marriage law, to break the eighteenth amendment, or to attack the property laws, as do the Reds.

"Respect for all law must be instilled in all children. I want to commend the W. C. T. U. without the agency of which it is doubtful if the eighteenth amendment would have been passed, and which is working so hard to give the amendment due respect. I hope that all of you who I am pleased to welcome to Oneonta may find our city on an even higher plane upon your next visit."

A law enforcement demonstration was given by several young ladies. The act was given under the direction of Mrs. Taylor of Schenectady.

Mrs. Clara Jacobs of Rochester took up the question "Shall We Spare Beer and Wine?" She asserted that 90 per cent of the liquor drunk before the advent of prohibition was beer and wine and that the old saloon evil would be back upon this country as soon as we permit beer and wine. Georgia, Massachusetts and other states which have had beer and wine laws have been forced to repeal them in favor of total prohibition.

Mrs. Graham rendered "Goodbye Forever, Saloon" in her usual inimitable manner and was much enjoyed.

Miss Scott, who spoke in the afternoon, and who sang several selections at the meeting last evening, also gave a short talk on the latest work of the W. C. T. U. in her department, of social morality. She expressed the opinion that the W. C. T. U. is going to answer the pressing call of every age. Frances Willard expressed the hope that W. C. T. U. would keep on raising the moral standards of the country and world until that of man should be as high as that of woman.

Miss Scott expressed the belief that Miss Willard was sent to the world by God to do His work. She also said that the second crusade of the W. C. T. U. would be against an evil which is even deeper seated that was the first. But, she said in closing, prayer and faith will make all of us social doctors and in a short time we will have covered the world.

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin gave a resume of the national and state legislative programs. She began with the thought that for many years it was thought that prohibition would do away with the drink evil But subsequent events show it is but a starting point. She then took up the several bills in the national and state legislatures and explained their purposes.

However, she thinks that the trouble with prohibition is not with the amendment or enforcement act but with the character of appointees to the excellent positions which are created.

As a summary of the state situation she stated that in spite of the darkness still the fact remains the outlook is bright and nothing has been done to hurt the stand and which has been established.

After singing the old song "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" the benediction was pronounced and Mrs. Colvin declared the meeting adjourned.

Every county in the region was well represented and the conference is considered one of the most helpful ever held in this section.

Don't use the whip on tired nerves — it means trouble

When the day's work is hard, you can't make it easier with stimulants.

Ask any doctor for the facts.

You can't over-draw energy without paying.

Coffee contains the nerve-stimulating drug, caffeine. When coffee is used to overcome fatigue, it means whipping the tired nerves into a run.

You may seem to get added strength—but there's a settlement coming for an overdrawn account.

Take care!

Rest is the cure for fatigue. Health is the equipment for hard tasks.

Rest and health are interfered with when nerves are over-stimulated.

You've seen plenty of proof. How many people do you know who say, "I have to go slow on coffee; it keeps me awake nights?"

How is it in your own case? Have you counted restless night hours after the evening cup of coffee?

Treat your health sensibly that you may meet your task capably.

Don't try to draw strength from over-driven nerves. That way lies weakness. Don't increase over-work by using stimulants. You are merely postponing and increasing the penalties.

Be fair to yourself!

For a hot, comforting beverage, drink Postum and let nerves have their natural rest.

There's charm without harm in Postum—a delightful, satisfying cereal beverage; rich, seal-brown in color, delicious in flavor and aroma, and containing nothing that can irritate nerves or disturb health. Postum is safe and enjoyable for every member of the family.

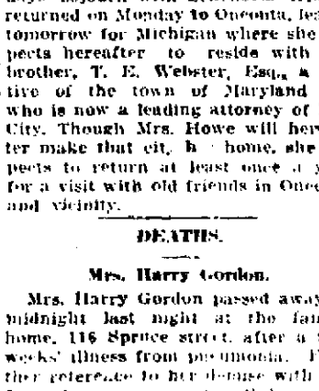

Thousands who formerly used coffee or tea, and began to pay the penalties of nerve-stimulation, now use Postum and praise its comforting goodness.

The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

Mothers, This Is Well Worth Your Reading!

Buffalo.—"I can recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Pleasant Pellets both of which I used during expectancy. I am now twenty years old and never had any enjoyment out of life until I started to use Dr. Pierce's medicines. I was run-down and was losing weight, but the Favorite Prescription corrected all this and now I am enjoying health, and have a fine big healthy baby boy. I cannot give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription enough credit. I recommend this medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. J. J. Simcox, 1 Hamilton St.

Health is most important to you. Do not neglect it. Obtain this Prescription of Dr Pierce's now, in liquid or tablets, from your druggist, or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free medical advice.

DODGE BROTHERS TOURING CAR

As Spring days approach, the demand for Dodge Brothers Touring Car mounts swiftly.

Dodge Brothers one problem, at present, is not how many Touring Cars they can sell, but how many they can build.

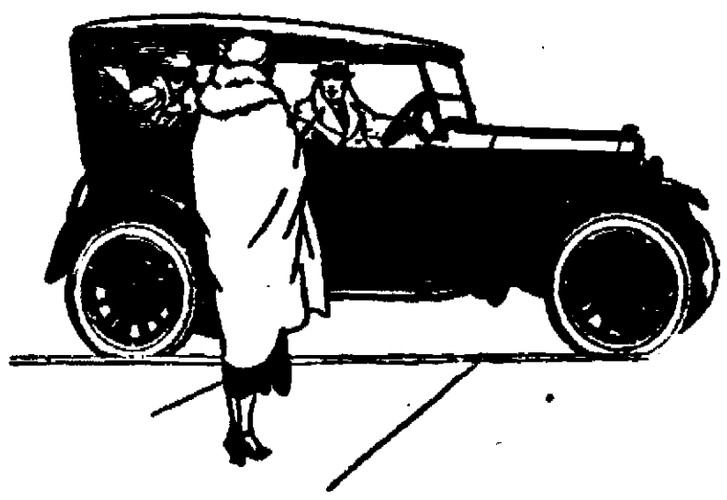

Never was public approval of Dodge Brothers product more obvious, and never was it more richly deserved.

Improvements, rarely spoken of but constantly being made, have brought the car to a state of perfection which can only be described as remarkable, even for Dodge Brothers.

Every part which takes a major strain is built of chrome vanadium steel. Many more pieces of alloy steel are used in vital parts than normal wear requires.

The price is $870.00 delivered.

IRREGULAR TREND SHOWN IN MARKET

Fluctuations of Number of Shares Construed as Suggesting End of "Bull" Market

Brief Market Summary.

Day's total sales, 1,360,000 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 104.79; net gain, .02.

High, 1922, 104.79; low, 90.96.

Twenty railroads averaged 90.25; net loss, .26.

High, 1923, 90.63; low, 84.52.

New York, Mar. 6.—Switching of speculative interest from one group to another combined with profit taking and short selling in a number of the recently popular industrial issues imparted a decidedly irregular trend to prices in today's stock market. The violent fluctuations in a number of individual shares were generally construed as suggestive of the last phase of a "bull" market.

Several of the usual leaders were inclined to be sluggish. United States Steel closing one-eighth lower at 107⅞. Reports that the steel corporation was contemplating an early increase of 11 per cent in the wages of day laborers were officially denied.

Equipments showed the most consistent strength. Baldwin touched 141¼ and closed at 139½, up one and three-eighths, buying being based on speculative expectation that $10,000,000 new business would be taken on monthly for some time to come. Pressed Steel Car was the individual feature in that group touching 73, and a new top price, closing at 71⅞, up five points on the day. American Locomotive approached within a very small fraction of 131 and closed one and five-eighths higher on the day at 130.

The pyrotechnics of the session were again furnished by the motor accessory issues. Stewart-Warner Speedometer, the individual star, falling from 121 to 113 and then rallying to 117⅞; off two and one-half points on the day. Stromberg Carburator converted an early gain of two points into a net loss of three and one-half. Bosch Magneto offered better resistance, touching 60, a new top, and closing at 57⅞, up four and one-quarter on the day.

Rails were again reactionary with trading comparatively dull despite unusually good January earnings and the optimistic prediction of Chairman Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific, who expressed the opinion that net earnings of his road each month this year would exceed those of every corresponding month last year.

Bond prices displayed a reactionary tone in today's dull and generally uninteresting session. While investment interests are holding on their purchases in apparent expectation of higher money rates with a consequent reduction in quoted values present holders show little disposition to sell at current prices.

United States bonds showed some irregularity in the early dealings, but strengthened perceptibly. Liberty 3½s dropped 12 cents on $100, but all the other active issues showed net gains of two to 14 points.

As a rule, speculative railroad mortgages were inclined to strengthen while the investment issues lost ground, but there were numerous exceptions in each group. Losses of one to one and one-quarter points were registered by Atchison general 4s, stamped, Chesapeake and Ohio convertible 5s, St. Paul refunding 4½s, Norfolk and Western convertible 6s, and Southern Railway 5s.

Children Hate Holidays in This School Because Their Teachers Sugar Coat 3 "R'S"

By Josephine Van de Grift

(NEA Service Staff Writer)

Holidays are the worst days in the year for Olympia Pascale.

And all because a couple of school teachers and a psychologist came along and started tampering [illegible] education.

"I'd been havin' trouble with my 'rithmetic," explains Olympia. "It was about fractions and percentages and things and I couldn't get it. I cried a lot and I made up my mind that if I ever got through the sixth grade they wouldn't catch me coming back to school any more.

"Then one day my teacher told me I didn't ever have to look in that old book again. That I was going into another room where I could sew instead of worrying over foolish old problems. I had always liked to sew and you ought to see the pretty things I started making right away. I made this dress I've got on and an apron for my mother and two ginham dresses for the school teachers. I love to go to school now. I wouldn't quit for anything."

Painless Teaching.

But Olympia has done more than to sew. Here, according to teachers at Public School No. 3 where Olympia and 99 other girls are entered in special classes, are some of the things Olympia has learned:

To take a tape measure, measure a school mate from shoulder to knee and figure how much goods will be required to make that school mate a dress.

To go to a store, purchase material, cut it economically and fashion it into a conservative, servicable garment.

To compute how much labor has gone into the making of the garment, figure the overhead cost, trimming, etc., and sell the garment, if necessary, at a fair profit.

And all the time Olympia didn't know arithmetic had anything to do with it.

It was pretty nearly the same with Pauline Manchesi. Pauline couldn't "get" geography. But when teachers started her on an imaginary trip to Paris and gave her a lot of time tables and pictures and Pauline could pick out what boat she would go on and what hotel she would stay at and what famous places she would visit—

Makes School Popular

"We've simply taken a hint from the old family doctor," explains Miss L. Pearl Whitaker, one of the teachers, "they used to sugar coat the worst tasting medicines. We've sugar coated the three R's."

In all 100 girls have been entered in these "special classes." They are girls between the ages of 12 and 14 who, having trouble with the usual school curriculum would ordinarily quit school as soon as the law allowed. But under the new system the girls become interested in school work, their school standing is improved—and other girls are clamoring to be admitted.

place the same under the usual restrictions was granted.

Miss Blake Confirmed.

Mayor Miller reported that Miss Dorothy Blake, secretary of the Family Social Work association, has for some time been serving as probation officer and he requested that her appointment to such position be confirmed.

Civil Service Commissioner.

Mayor Miller announced the appointment of Orlando B. Rowe as member of the civil service commission of the city as successor of J. F. Thompson, resigned. The appointment was promptly confirmed.

Report on Bridge Project.

Mayor Miller reported that he and Attorney Gibbs had attend the hearing at Albany upon the proposed highway bridge across the Hudson at Poughkeepsie and that the sentiment there expressed was unanimous. He stated that it is estimated that the bridge can be completed at a cost of not to exceed $4,100,000. He added that motorists are now often delayed 2 to 4 hours when endeavoring to secure a ferry across the river and that 11 p. m. north of New York city motorists must wait until morning to effect a crossing.

Mid-Winter Mayors' Conference.

Mayor Miller outlined to the aldermen the program for the mid-winter conference of Mayors and City Officials to be held at Albany today and urged all members to attend th conference if possible. Mayor Miller and possibly others will attend.

Mayor Closes Contract.

Mayor Miller stated that in accordance with the resolution recently adopted [illegible] had closed a contract with the Technical Advisory corporation of New York for the preparation of a zoning ordinanće for this city at a cost of not to exceed $2,240. The contract was read and approved and ordered filed. Mr. Miller stated that it had been agreed that Mr. Ford, who has prepared more zoning ordinances than any other man, would be assigned to the task here and that Mr. Ennis would assist him. Mr. Miller suggested several names that had been considered for the commission on this matter and asked for suggestions from the members of the council. No appointments will be made until consent to serve has been secured.

Amendment Not Drafted.

Attorney Gibbs reported that he had found it a more difficult and exacting task to prepare an amendment to the city charter providing for the change in the time of the payment of taxes in the city to March 1 and September 1 than at first thought and that the same has not been completed. Further time was accorded.

To License Rooming Houses.

Mayor Miller said that it would help keep the city clean and free from objectionable resorts to adopt an ordinance requiring a person desiring to conduct a rooming or boarding house in the city to first secure a license from the city therefor. Upon his suggestion City Attorney Gibbs was instructed to prepare such an ordinance for the consideration of the council.

Other Business Matters.

The request of the board of public [illegible] the council provide for fire and indemnity insurance covering the trucks, tractors, rollers and other road machinery in use by the public works department was referred to the house committee for its recommendation.

Approval of the decision of the board of public works to construct with its own force the new sidewalk laid during the current year, no bid having been received, was voted.

Alderman Deery called attention to the reckless driving of motor cars on River street and said that children having occasion to cross River street in going to and from the [illegible] street school are in danger. Mayor Miller assured Mr. Deery that the police will erect suitable signs warning motorists.

America Named for Historian.

Cleveland, O., Mar. 6.—Columbus discovered America, but Americus Vespucius described it and as a result the continent bears the name of the historian rathed than that of the discoverer, M. S. Pittman, of Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti, Mich told the department of superintendence of the National Education association here today.

"Comenius, that great educator of the seventeenth century, put his thoughts into written form but he lacked a suitable press agent and in consequence education lost two centuries of possible progress," said Dr. Pittman. "Publicity is the trail-blazer which discovers and marks the path along which civilization may march with safety. It is the agency by which an established civilization makes known its virtues and its blessings.

"The thesis 'the pen is mightier than the sword' was once debatable but not since the act of publicity has been so highly developed. Organized opinion is the world's greatest power and publicity is the creator of public opinion. Educational publicity, then is the trail-blazer, the light giver, the radio, the opinion maker, the war machine of education progress."

DUTIES AND OBLIGATIONS

WHAT THE INDIVIDUAL IS MORALLY AND LEGALLY BOUND TO DO.

Essay of Interest by Robert Taggart, Winner of Third Prize in Clarke Prize Essay Contest in Otsego Schools.

In any nation regardless of its extent or its form of government, the citizens of that land must perform certain duties and obligations if that nation would exist. Especially in the United States which has a government of the people, by the people and for the people, must the people carry out their duties and obligations punctually and willingly if our great land is to [illegible] among nations. The duties and obligations of any citizen may be divided into two classes. The one which I have called the personal class includes the duties that are more important to the individual. The other which I have termed the public class includes the duties related to the general public. Under the former I have classified such duties as the maintaining of a good home; the making of a success of life and the duty of helping others. Our duties to the public are to use the ballot, to support the government by taxes, service and by obedience to the law.

The first and greatest of the personal duties is that of making a home. The home is the most important and vital institution of the United States. In the home the future of the nation is provided for. The children, the product of the home, will be the future citizens and the nation, tomorrow, will be no more or less than what the home of today makes it. For this reason, it is the duty of every patriotic American man and woman to have the right kind of home; the kind of home in which respect, obedience and kindiness are taught. A home where love and consideration for others comes before selfish interest is the only kind that will make patriotic, law-abiding citizens.

In close connection with the home stands the school, another vital institution, a pillar of the nation. In the school the children are trained for life and its duties. It is necessary that the child be trained in order that he may become a citizen who will work for the best interest of his community, so that he will be able to use the ballot intelligently and so that he will be prepared to produce honest work and gain a living. Because of these reasons it is the duty of every citizen to educate his children, to give them [illegible] the nation's progress.

But before a man can have a home and children he must make a success of himself. In this great wealthy land of ours which opens so many opportunities to all there is no excuse for a man's failing to make a good living. This means that he must make enough money to live comfortably, to provide for those dependent upon him and to save enough so that he will not have to rely on others for support in his declining years. Yet to merely earn money is not enough, for he must achieve something and make something of himself. He must not be a parasite on the community in which he lives but on the other hand he must build up and strengthen his community and himself. Yet if a man has vision, is careful, thrifty and earnest in his work, his duty in regard to making a success of life will perform itself.

But there are other people in the world and a person's duty is only half done when he looks out for himself and his own. Civilization itself is built upon cooperation which is nothing more than helping others. Since this is so, it is a citizen's duty to give his fellow citizens a square deal at all times and to assist them when possible. This help may be a kindly word, it may be a little financial assistance when misfortune visits him. Think of how much you owe other people and then can you honestly say that you have no debt to pay? It is your obligation, as a citizen, to return the investment that has been made in you. The community has given you an education and employment and expects in return that you help support its institutions and be a fellow with the other citizens.

The duties which I have spoken of so far are those which the citizen ought to perform in his personal relationships. Those he does in regard to his home and his community. There are, however, some very important obligations that a citizen ought to pay his government. These have been classified as public duties because they are not only performed in a large part by the public but the public also reaps the benefit of them.

The first of these duties is the use of the ballot. The ballot is the voice of the public. Through it the public chooses its legislators and directs them as to what it wishes. It insures the liberty of the people by controlling the politicians who know that the votes of the public are decisive and final. [illegible] of these things it would seem that it is more than a duty to exercise the ballot, it is a privilege. Still some through ignorance or because of other reasons are not appreciative of this privilege and endanger their freedom and lessen the people's power by [illegible]

There is another obligation that at some time or other nearly every citizen is called upon to perform. This is the duty of personal service. A democratic government, such as the United States has, requires many men to fill its responsible positions. These positions vary from that of a [illegible] in a little community to that of a senator or representative at Washington. Still it is absolutely necessary that these positions be filled and filled with able men if justice and right are to rule. Since this is so, citizens must be prepared to accept a public position and carry on diligently and earnestly the work connected with it. If the work is done for the common good of all instead of for personal gain or local interest the country will be more united and sectional strife will be banished.

A third obligation the majority of citizens have to meet is the paying of taxes. Taxes have always been disliked and probably always will [illegible] George Washington in his "Farewell Address" says that taxes are always inconvenient and a nuisance but since they are a necessity for running the government the citizens should [illegible] and pay them willingly. They [illegible] investment in our country. The benefit from taxes is [illegible] communication by the public highways and protection from fire, crime and foreign aggression [illegible] of the expenditure of public money. Because of this the American public should not grudge the money they pay for taxes.

Another obligation due to government [illegible] the citizens is their moral support. The people's representatives should be backed up and encouraged by a unified public spirit. During the elections politicians often try to improve their chance for office by undermining their opponent's reputation. This besmirching a candidate's reputation has a bad effect upon the public's opinion of the man. It is very difficult for him even though he is chosen by the popular vote to make the people realize that he is an entirely honorable man. This ought not to be so. It should be the duty of every citizen to know for whom he is voting and to do right as he sees the right. But after the election the citizen should forget party differences and stand solidly behind the representative chosen by the people.

These obligations which I have just been speaking about are really secondary. The first obligation a citizen [illegible] his country is to obey and help enforce her laws. Recently a harmful spirit has arisen in the minds of certain people concerning obedience to the law. They seem to think if they are rich enough or powerful enough they may evade the law and still do no harm. They apparently do not realize that they are breeding contempt for the government when they violate its statutes. But the law must be maintained equally among all citizens if our democratic form of government is to live because it is not democracy when one man may evade that which all men are supposed to do. The regard for one's desire must have no consideration in respect to obeying the law. There is but one law, the law of the land, and it must be obeyed. Otherwise there would be no order or government and chaos and anarchy would prevail. Therefore, it is the duty of every citizen to support the laws and see that they are enforced.

At present economic conditions within the country are not the best and foreign conditions are deplorable. Because of them the citizens of the United States must be careful in performing their duties and obligations lest chaos and disorder visit our land. But the wisdom of the mass of the American people has settled peaceably and happily so many trying conditions and questions so that we can still trust it to bring peace and prosperity.
